

Monita Mo Addressed 2007 HPAIR (Harvard Project for Asia and International Relations) Academic Conference

2007 HPAIR Academic Conference was held on August 17 to 19 2007 at Grand Hyatt Beijing Hotel. Monita Mo was invited as the speaker on two days sessions. HPAIR, organized by students at Harvard University and overseen by Harvard's top Asia experts, annually organizes an academic conference and a business forum with notable speakers and hundreds of students from universities throughout the world have attended. The theme of 2007 conference was to discuss and analyze characterizations of leadership and the spheres in which leaders operate—public, private and non-profit, and how they intend to re-define the future of leadership in all sectors. The sessions were designed to be interactive and the formats ranged from panels discussion, to question and answer sessions, and multimedia presentations.
